

2022 Create the Vote Candidate Survey

Thank you for taking the time to share your thoughts on Arts and Culture in advance of the 2022 election. We'll post your responses on our website so that voters can make informed decisions about who will best represent the Arts and Culture community at the legislature.

We ask that you complete the survey by Friday, September 23rd. We know your time is limited so we understand that your responses will be brief.

Don't miss out on this important opportunity to be an Arts champion!

House-81

Every town in Connecticut can boast cultural assets that contribute to a vibrant community and improve the quality of life for its residents.

What are some exciting arts and cultural events and organizations that you have experienced in your community?

The Southington Community and Cultural Arts (SoCCA) Center organizes a number of events each year to promote the arts in our community. My kids have taken art lessons at SoCCA.

If elected, will you work to strengthen the arts and culture community in the town(s) you serve? If so, how? If not, why?

Art appreciation and awareness are critical for communities. I would continue to advocate for the arts by promoting projects such as the creation of murals on the buildings along the linear trail. As a teacher, I would emphasize the importance of the arts to students in our community.

Sandwiched between Boston and New York, Connecticut is often dismissed as a "pass through" state when it comes to tourism. Yet, our state has many world class arts institutions and a rich cultural landscape.

Why do you think arts and culture are important in Connecticut? What is unique about our state's arts and culture?

CT has a lot to offer, whether it's the Wadsworth Museum, the Yale Art Gallery, or smaller art collections. I would like to see an "Arts Passport" for Connecticut, that would feature the many opportunities for residents and visitors to explore and interact with the Arts in CT.

During the Covid-19 pandemic, many people discovered that arts and creativity play a critical role in helping us cope with emotional stress and sustain our mental health. Art helped us process loss, fight loneliness, stay connected and feel hopeful.

Can you share a way that the arts have helped you, your family or your community get through the difficult times of Covid? How will that experience influence choices about the arts you would make as a legislator?

My wife and I became more engaged with our elementary son and his exposure to the arts. He was out of school and we wanted him to gain as much exposure as possible. We viewed art online and created art projects at home.

The arts and creativity have a proven track record of economic benefit to our state. The National Endowment for the Arts' Office of Research & Analysis and the Bureau of Economic Analysis report that, in 2020, arts and cultural production in Connecticut added $8.9 billion to our economy and accounted for 3.2 percent of our gross state product, while the arts and cultural industries employed 49,159 workers with wages and benefits totaling more than $5.1 billion. Despite these contributions, the arts have historically been first on the chopping block when it comes to budget priorities. What would you do to help keep arts and creativity funded in our state at a level that recognizes their economic importance?

Showcasing the arts and the benefits they offer is key to creating awareness and support for funding and expansion of current programs. As a State Legislator, I would work to publicly promote the arts in my district and in Hartford.

Connecticut has not had an Arts Education Specialist at the State Department of Education (SDE) since 2016, when the last specialist left. This position is critical to assuring that our State and National Arts Education Standards are consistently implemented in all of Connecticut's school districts, especially those in under-resourced communities where students' access to the Arts is often extremely limited compared to affluent communities.

If elected, would you support refilling the Arts Education Specialist at SDE? If not, why?

Yes.
